Armed Forces Test Will Be Given Here

M-Set Howard G. Whistcroft of the Murray Recruiting Station for the U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force, announces that on the 7th of April, Capt. Lloyd Sessy, head of the recruiting board at the Over-boro Recruiting and Induction Station will be in Murray for the purpose of giving the Armed Forces Qualification Test to all young men and women who are interested in joining the Army or the Air Force.

This program of testing applicants in Murray has been initiated to help interested men and women to know before making the long trip to Owensboro whether or not they qualify for the service. Set. Whistcroft said that he would like to have as many as 15 applicants; for the test will be given to the test.

As a follow up of the testing program Set. Whistcroft regrets that there will be an Army Bus come through Murray on the 15th of April to pick up the men and women who have been tested, and take them to Owensboro for enlistment. This bus will stop in all cities in Western Kentucky to pick up applicants. It leaves Paducah at 8:30 a. m. stops in Mayfield at 9:30 a. m., Murray at 10:00 a. m., and on to Hopkinsville, Princeton, Medisonville, Henderson, and on to Owensboro. At Owensboro there will be a delegation of city, Army and Air Force Officials to meet and welcome the new recruits to the Main Recruiting Station and into the service.

All those men and women who wish to participate in this program should see Set. Whistcroft this week. The Recruiting Station is located at 103 North 5th Street, Murray.

Water Diet Quells Prison Riot

By United Press
Fourteen tough convicts who complained about prison food went on a water diet today in Trenton, New Jersey.

The water, one-thousand gallons of it a minute, came from high-pressure fire hoses. It poured into a state prison cell block for two and a half hours before the prisoners said they'd like to come out for air and talk about a truce.

The rebellious prisoners held 11 trustees as hostages. They were among the 60 convicts who staged an 11-hour riot in the prison, ringing out pipes and bunks, and barraging on their cell doors.

They had nothing to eat since dinner Saturday night. This morning the 14 die-hards stood by their barred windows, shouting, insults at guards passing by and daring them to come inside the cell block.
The guards didn't go in, but the water did. That was enough for them.

Local Boy Is Accepted For Internship

NORFOLK, Va., Thirteen senior medical students who reside in the Fifth Naval District have been accepted for intern training at U. S. naval hospitals. Rear Admiral Lamont Pugh, Surgeon General of the Navy, announced.

Nine of the 13 named are from Virginia. Three are from Maryland and another from Kentucky.
Completing the list for the Fifth Naval District is Joe Stanley Butterworth, 103 North 14th Street, Murray, Ky., the Jacksonville (Fla.) Naval Hospital.

The students will be appointed lieutenants (junior grade) in the Medical Corps, Naval Reserve, following graduation. They will then be ordered into active military service to begin their intern training on July 1.

In all, 108 students from medical colleges and schools throughout the country have been accepted for the training that will be conducted by the American Medical Association and the Navy's Council on Medical Education and Hospitals.

US ARMS SUPERIOR TO RUSSIA'S OFFICIALS

High defense officials have assured congress that American weapons are superior to Russia's.
They also said that important progress is under way in the army's work on tactical atomic weapons for use against moving enemy troops and on anti-aircraft rockets and guided missiles.

Air Force Secretary Finletter has told congress that America would use the atomic bomb in retaliation against a Russian attack on this country. He made the disclosure before a House appropriation subcommittee which is studying the Air Force budget.

Senator Paul Douglas believes his economy proposals for the military pay raise bill would save "hundreds of millions" of dollars.
The Illinois Democrat will seek a showdown on his three proposed amendments to the bill, when the measure reaches the senate floor on Monday.

SENATE GRANTS PAY RAISE FOR ARMED FORCE

WASHINGTON, March 31 (UP)— The Senate has passed an amendment granting a pay raise to American fighting men in Korea.
The amendment authorizes a 45-dollar-a-month combat pay bonus for all members of the armed forces, fighting the Communists.

The Senate by a standing vote, added the amendment to a bill to raise all military pay about three percent and also increase allowances for members of the armed forces.

Senator Michigan sponsored the amendment. He said it was a "highly fantastic situation" that floods submarine crews and others should get "bonus" pay while Korean foot soldiers get no premium pay.

Mobilizer Chief Wilson Resigns Today

The resignation of Charles Wilson as defense mobilizer has had a "stunning effect" on the Washington political and labor scene, according to a source here.

Wilson stalked out of his job yesterday after a tiff with President Truman. He accused the chief executive of "fishing the government light on a plan for steel price increases—and then switching signals."

Mr. Truman sent Wilson a letter yesterday praising his resignation and praising his past service to the nation. At the same time, the president vigorously defended what Wilson said is the administration plan to seek a steel settlement on the basis of pay hikes without price boosts.

The white house announced that presidential assistant John Stee-man will take over Wilson's duties temporarily, pending appointment of a new chief mobilizer.

A spokesman for Wilson says he probably will not return to his former job as president of the State General Electric Company. His immediate plans are not known.

Wilson stated that his reason for leaving was that the government's steel settlement plan "violated his sense of justice."

Truman Successor Has Demos In Whirl; Stevenson Favored

By United Press
The politicians find it hard to believe that the average husband can easily understand.

The force behind President Truman's decision not to run for re-election was primarily a woman, Bess Truman.

For 17 years, the wife of the president has weathered public life in Washington with her husband —seven of those years in the white house.

During that time, the first lady has had little time to rest—or really enjoy life. There was always some official function to attend to—people to meet—photographers flash bulbs popping.

There was also the worry about whether her husband's health could stand the strain of being president.

So, when it came time for President Truman to decide on whether to try for the white house again—there was no doubt about where Bess Truman stood. She wanted him to quit.

The president had a lot of other things to consider before announcing his big decision—the future of his foreign policy, his possible successor, Republican prospects.
But, when the time for the final decision came, Mr. Truman himself, admits, his "beautiful little girl with golden curls" tipped the balance.

The problem of the president's successor has Democratic political circles in a tizzy today.

An official white house source says Mr. Truman has definitely picked Governor Adlai Stevenson

Reds Want Higher Level To Take Over

Communist negotiators in Korea have asked for higher level delegates to take over a critical truce issue.

Allied and Communist staff officers have been unable in 64 sessions to work out a plan for surviving a truce. The staff officers have been stumped on Communist insistence that Russia be included on a neutral inspection team.

Last night the Reds suggested that the staff officers give up the subject and turn it back to a subcommittee of formal delegates. The Allies disagreed, saying they don't think that subcommittee sessions are necessary. However, Allied officers promised to consider the proposal and bring back an answer from Vice Admiral C. Turner Joy tonight.

In another tent at Panmunjom last night, other Allied and Communist officers held another secret talk on the prisoner exchange question. A UN spokesman says it was "an amiable session."

In the fighting, the Reds fired two thousand artillery rounds on the east central front and tried a series of small probing attacks.
But they were thrown back at every point. And at sea, Allied ships and navy planes bombarded Communist rail lines along the east coast of Korea.

Marshall Tito of Yugoslavia has blasted the west over Trieste.
In a surprise speech at Belgrade today, Tito criticized both Italy and the west, and said Yugoslavia will never accept any decision on Trieste that is made without Yugoslav participation. Tito warned the western powers that if they continue their present plans on Trieste, they will in his words, "lose much of the sympathy which they now enjoy" in Yugoslavia.

William Crago Returns To The United States

The aircraft carrier USS Essex has returned to the United States from a nine-month tour of duty in the Korean combat zone.

Serving aboard the Essex is William D. Crago, seaman, USN, of Route 2, Murray, Ky.

After a 40-million-dollar modernization job, the 27,000-ton flat top was recommissioned Jan. 15, 1951.
In June of 1951 the Essex sailed for Korea carrying the F2H Bombers.

Air Group 3 attached to the Essex, was the first Navy air group to fly against the North Koreans.
The air group flew two tours of combat duty.

QUESTION
Were you surprised to learn that Truman wasn't running for president?

ANSWERS
"Gingles Wallis: No, I wasn't. It's hard to say whether he should run or not. It's coming to who runs for the Republican Party. I think if this had nominated Taft, he would probably run, but I don't think they will ever nominate Taft.
Ronald Churchill: I wasn't surprised at his announcement that he wasn't a candidate for re-election.
Bob Thomas: No, I wasn't because I believe if Truman had intended to run, he would have announced it long before now.

Mrs. Ray Buckinham: No, I just didn't think he would because he didn't announce sooner.
Baxter Billberg: No, not exactly.
I kinda figured there was something wrong or he would have expressed himself earlier. He's unpredictable anyway.

A Valued Award

We received an honor last Friday night which we doubt seriously will ever be surpassed. The Murray Training School Chapter of the Future Farmers of America conferred on us the Honorary Future Farmer degree.

The Future Farmer degree is an award that is given by the chapter and is given by the boys themselves.

The reason that we are so proud to receive this degree is that we know that the boys discussed the various candidates and made a selection without regard to politics, possible favors, grudges, or faults, fancied or real.

This is not always true of honors bestowed in the adult world.

Another reason that we are so proud of this award is because of the character and integrity of the organization that gave it.

A look at the accomplishments of the Murray Training School Chapter of the Future Farmers of America indicates that it is a sound organization from every standpoint.

Its membership is composed of boys in high school who intend to follow farming as a career. Boys like Dan Shively who was the local president in the year 1949-50; State Association of Kentucky Treasurer in 1950-51; American Farmer in 1951-52; Master Farmer of Kentucky in 1951-52.

Other boys of the same character like Mason Billings-ton, Eugene Armstrong, Hal Shipley, Bobby McDougal, L. J. Hendon, Jackie Byers, Tommy Hale, and others right on through the chapter.

Ten boys have 77 acres in popcorn, 14 have 42 acres in field corn, 2 boys have 4 acres in burley; 9 boys have 13 1/2 in dark tobacco, 8 boys have 24 beef cattle, 9 boys have 18 dairy cattle, 2 boys have ten acres of hay and 13 boys have improvement projects.

One member won first place in the hog show, another second place in the pen of three entry. This year the chapter has a budget of $5,049.65.

These are good men, but boys 13, 14, 15 and 16 years old.

We have attended several FFA Father and Son banquets during the past several years, and we are always impressed with the stage presence of the officers of the chapter. They stand on their feet and speak without a shadow of embarrassment.

Curt Simmons' CO Has Answer To How Phils Rate This Year

By United Press
If you want to know how the Phils are going to fare in the coming pennant race don't ask manager Eddie Sawyer or ringleader, he asked to remain anonymous, told this correspondent at least three of the regulars would jump with joy if they were traded tomorrow. We're fed up."

The other Phils clique is happy and hard-working. As for Sawyer, he's satisfied the austerity program has matured his white kids of 1950. "We have a harder-working, better bunch of players this year, than ever before," says Sawyer. "Don't count on it."

Sawyer is right on that last score. Don't count the Phils out. They're loaded with pitching and a good defense. If they deal out some punch, or get it from an expected source they could be pennant-bound.

Women Taught Way To Improve Kitchen

Plans for kitchen improvement are being made by home-makers of Bullitt county, Ky. A series of lessons they had arranged for equipment, and for these rooms attractive. One of the first to make changes was Mrs. W. F. Masden, who had a water system installed in her home. She was careful to have the kitchen sink and water heater placed in a recommended location.

Mrs. H. H. Combs of the H. H. Club moved her range to a better location, and installed a 36-inch base cabinet by her refrigerator to complete a mixing center. Mrs. Miller, county agent with the University of Kentucky, as a result, they often save money and can expect better crops.

Testing Soil Cuts Fertilizer Costs

Anderson county farmers are realizing the value of having their soil tested and buying fertilizer to fit their needs, says Layman Miller, county agent with the University of Kentucky. As a result, they often save money and can expect better crops.

He cites the case of Leon Drury, who last year spent $200 for fertilizer on his tobacco. This year he had his soil tested and found that he could save $97.50 in fertilizer. Many similar examples could be given, said Mr. Miller.

Here & Yonder

Hello everyone.

How is everybody liking all this rain. I don't care so much for it.

Mrs. Troy Scott and Mr. Scott's brother, Prentice, from Auburn Heights, Mich. have been visiting Mrs. Scott's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Self, also her sisters, Clara Self and Mrs. John Walker Kimbro. Also Mr. Scott's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lex Scott, all of Murray.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Fulcher visited Mrs. Burlin Woods who was sick one day last week.

Miss Ethel Fulcher of 111 Cardot Street, East Alton, Ill. is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Fulcher, her brother Joe Fulcher, also her sisters and their families. Mr. and Mrs. Toby Runyon and son David and Mrs. Elmus Morris and son, Larry.

Mr. and Mrs. James Fulcher and sons, Harry and Dennis are planning on visiting their mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Fulcher, March 29. Mr. Fulcher has not got to visit his parents since he was discharged from the army after staying a year in Okinawa. Although his parents visited him in Illinois soon after his discharge.

I guess the school kids are happy as school will soon be out here in Kentucky, they better be glad they are not in Illinois as I heard that school isn't out until May 29 out there.

Pearl Self goes to school in East Alton, Illinois, but she doesn't mind that school isn't out until May. It was reported that she loved to go to school and she had only missed 4 days since school started and that was due to the awful ice they had up there back in November and the deep snow.

I heard that Miss Sally Daniel is well now and home from the hospital where she had been for most of a year. I'm proud to know she is well.

While visiting in Murray, Miss Ethel Fulcher lost her billfold which contained her money, pictures and personal papers. She wishes to thank Mr. Audrey Hill, who found it and promptly returned it to her. We are glad there are still honest people in the world.

I was sorry to hear about Mr. O. J. Fulcher's wife dying, and about his cow being sick. He called the veterinarian for his cow and she is fine now.

Mr. Sherman Runyon called back to his job in Michigan. His wife, Irene, and two children are living with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Runyon on Murray, Route 3.

Mrs. Runyon is still sick. So long for now.

Mrs. Truman And Family Move Into "New" White House

By United Press
Mrs. Truman and her family moved into the "new" White House Thursday.

It's a completely re-built White House, now. But even before all the remodeling it was a far cry from the days when the first presidential family occupied it.

Abigail Adams, wife of the second president and the first to live at 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue, was a little disturbed with what she first saw.

In 1800, she wrote to her daughter, who lived in New York:

"The woods are all you see. The house is a thing of beauty."

From the kitchen to the parlors and chambers is a tax, indeed. You must keep this to yourself and when asked how I like it, say that I write the situation as beautiful.

Before the president's family moved, members of Congress, their wives, other Washington officials, and reporters all got a look at the remodeling. The job cost about six million dollars and even Republicans had a few "ons" and "ahs."

Most of the women thought the kitchen was a thing of beauty.

Mrs. Charles Heven, wife of the Republican representative from Iowa, remarked that the central kitchen was so big, it was too bad. Mrs. Truman didn't have a smaller one where she could whip herself up a cake.

Myrtle Cheisey Murdock, wife of the congressman from Arizona and an expert on Washington history, says that in Mrs. Adams' time, the White House kitchen was "an immense old room." It had sandstone floors, wide open fireplaces with ovens which could roast a dozen turkeys, a pig and several hams, and bake pies and cakes besides.

In the old days, water was piped into the White House kitchen from a nearby spring. Gas lighting came years later, in 1853, and the same year the big house got central heating.

Benjamin Harrison was the first president to get electricity. President Hayes was the first to enjoy modern bathrooms and telephones.

NEW SALARY STABILIZATION BOARD MEMBER, Ralph R. Lounsbury, right, of Montclair, N. J., president of the Bankers National Life Insurance Company, is congratulated by Roger L. Padon, of the Economic Stabilization Agency, after taking the oath as a new member of the Salary Stabilization Board. Judge Justin Miller, chairman of the Board, looks on.

Bone Emulsion Promises To Be Great Relief

By United Press

An emulsion of bone marrow promises to contain a specific curative drug for disease caused by atomic radiation, it is reported.
However, the curative substance in the bone marrow emulsion has not been identified, so it is not yet known whether it can be isolated and produced cheaply.

The promising lead for a new approach to atomic medicine was disclosed in testimony before a congressional committee by Dr. Shiede Warren of the atomic energy commission. He said the bone marrow substance had proved effective against radiation diseases in laboratory animals.

The discovery was made by Dr.
Egon Lorenz of the National Cancer Institute.

Anti-biotic medicine has advanced so rapidly that about half of all the prescriptions written by physicians now are for the so-called wonder drugs.

And it all has occurred since 1941.

This was disclosed by Dr. Henry Welch of the federal food and drug administration at the current meeting of the American chemical society in Buffalo.

The polaroid corporation of Cambridge, Mass., has developed a new microscope capable of 300,000x to study cancer and other chemical changes in living tissue.

The microscope uses ultraviolet light and especially sensitive photographic color papers which reflect chemical changes in the tissue being examined in highly distinctive colors. It is expected to be very valuable in cancer diagnosis.

PLUMBER MAKES STATE

PAY-OFF FOR IDEAS

ALBANY, N. Y. (UP)—Richard J. Glander, a state-employed plumber, has found New York's merit award program a "useless source of income."

Glander received $500 for suggesting that some 3,000 radiators in the huge state office building here be turned upside down to double their service expectancy, and save the state an estimated $14,000 a year.

Less than a month before, Glander was awarded $100 for figuring out a plan to ease traffic congestion around the office building.

CHAPTER SIXTEEN HENRI rejoined Heloise on the piazza after Lafayette had set the traps. "Well," he told her, "the traps are all set." He rubbed his hands together. "Lafayette was very talkative. It takes a good deal of time for him to get unbound." Heloise nodded. "Lafayette is not good for much. The poor fellow has rheumatism something terrible. That's why he always smells so of Sloan's Liniment. When you don't notice the rotgut liquor on his breath."
"Where's Leonie gone to?"
"She went over to the Garrisons."
"Oh," Henri said. He had intended to pay an unscheduled call on Antonette. He did not particularly want to go and the detour troubled him; this might give him an excuse.
"I suppose I'd better go for her," he said. "I don't like Leonie going around at night without an escort."
"Brother," Heloise said, "you're leaving into the past. Girls all go alone now."
"I don't like it."
"Leonie is a young girl of the middle class. There's no family carriage to call for her."
"I don't like to hear you refer to her as middle class," Henri said.
"Well, what are we, then?"
"We are gentilefolk," Henri said seriously.
"Call us anything you like," Heloise said patiently. "All right, when ten o'clock strikes, you can go three blocks over to the Garrisons' house to escort Miss Leonie home. Maybe you'd better come home from the office several times a day to see if she'd like to go."
"I'm not talking about the daytime. I want Leonie to have the sense of dignity that being escorted gives a young woman."
"Are you going to stay tonight?"
You'd better do it before Mrs.
Flanders gets to bed. It annoys her, you know, and we don't want to make the Lennoxes lose boarders."
"Confound Mrs. Flanders," Henri said. "I'll close the windows carefully before he begins his scares."
Although he had counted on mae and Sir Walter Scott to pass the time, by a quarter to ten Henri was uneasy about Leonie.

Tarzan Mate Now Lissome Dorothy Hart

By United Press

The latest mate of Tarzan swinging through the trees after him is statuesque Dorothy Hart. On the solid stage decorated to look like a jungle, she swims in a pool—cavorts with elephants—and strides behind the be-muscled Tarzan, played by Lex Barker. Yet Dorothy—the first to admit she has no business with this role in the first place. "The role, I hear, requires athletic ability," she says with a smile. "Yet my only talent in that direction sat and stopped, with rope-jumping."

"But I like animals, so I thought I'd take a chance with it."

She's had plenty of time to play with animals, too. The first day of her new picture, "Tarzan's Savage Fur," a man came in carrying a live python. This he told the actress, was her co-star.

"They waited for me to jump away in fright," she says. "I pretended I wasn't alarmed. When I finally did work with the python, it was so sluggish it had to be warmed up with electric blankets."

Dorothy also shared scenes with elephants, lions, crocodiles and monkeys.

"None of them scared me too much," she says, "but some were mischievous. The elephant liked to tap me on my back with his trunk. And once I got an unexpected lift from a chimpanzee who was in a tree above during a tree-climbing sequence."

It was not animals but wind that gave Dorothy her roughest experience. The breeze was on location in Death Valley, and Hart was leaping across crags 200 feet above the desert floor.

As she recalls, the wind whipping over these rocks almost blew her away. It was a long way down, too.

Dorothy's softest job turned out to be the swimming scenes. There took place in the half-million-dollar artificial jungle built at the studio. The jungle pool, she confesses, was steam-heated.

"I had to leave it," says Tarzan's mate.

It was not animals but wind that gave Dorothy her roughest experience. The breeze was on location in Death Valley, and Hart was leaping across crags 200 feet above the desert floor.

Farmers Join In Planning Hospital

The program of Rockcastle county farmers includes cooperating with the Mt. Vernon Chamber of Commerce in promoting a community hospital.

The Agricultural Extension Committee in the county recently voted to add school and vocational to a county artificial project cooperative to the local farm setup.

Strawberries will be sold through the Cumberland Strawberry Growers Association, which will run a truck from Williamsburg to Cincinnati. Berries will be picked up along the highway in Whitley, Knox, Laurel, Clay, Rockcastle and Jackson counties.

Thirty-two Rockcastle county farmers have enrolled in the G.I. Pictures program, according to Robert Spence, University of Kentucky county agent.

HOME OWNERS QUESTION BOX

Q—What kind of shingles should be used on a roof with a very steep pitch?

A—All styles of asphalt shingles are suitable for a roof with a rise of 4 inches or more to each horizontal foot. Strip and individual asphalt shingles are made in a variety of shapes and colors. The variety of shapes enables the homeowner to pick out the pattern that will add most to the attractiveness of his dwelling. Attractiveness can also be increased by judicious choice from among the many solid and blended colors available.

Q—What makes a plaster ceiling fall?

A—Plaster falls because it gets wet. Water softens plaster, and soft plaster loses its grip on the lath. The water can come from a leaking roof or a leaking pipe. Because water can work its way unseen through the walls, its source is often far from where it appears.

Q—What is the best way to repair the crack where a concrete basement floor has pulled away from the wall?

A—Widen the crack to form a wedge-shaped groove. Pack the groove with a stiff mortar made of one part cement and three parts sand.

Q—How can a crack in cast iron be repaired?

A—With a cement, which is sold in hardware stores. This comes as a powder and is mixed with water to form a thick paste.

University Develops New Barley For State

Every year more farmers are growing barley as a cover following to buckwheat or for grain production. These who sowed barley the past fall turned under a heavy, green manure crop this spring, or will harvest a good yield of grain next June.

Kenbar is the name of an improved variety of winter barley developed at the University of Kentucky Experiment Station. Outstanding characteristics are high yield, strong straw, early maturity and resistance to disease. It is recommended for both grain production and as a cover crop.

Farmers interested in growing barley should read a new circular of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics called "Kenbar Winter Barley."

Jefferson 4-H Girl Has Envious Record

A record of achievement in the farm home and on the farm has been made by Miss Ann Hufflage, 4-H club member of Jefferson county. In completing 32 projects, she canned 1,882 quarts of food, cooked 139 meals, baked 302 rolls, decorated her bedroom, cured for 31 pigs, seven steers, 75 chickens and grew a garden. She has won six trophies, 15 medals and 344 ribbons, said Miss Alice Work, UK associate home demonstration agent.

Desires of Family Influence Design Of New Furniture

An American family's desire for "informal practicality" is one of the strongest influences on contemporary furniture design. That term is used by a leading furniture designer, Ernest Swartz of Rockford, Ill., who says he strives for informal practicality and furniture that is light in scale. In general, the aims of Mr. Swartz and other designers are livability, practicality, warmth, good taste, functionalism, sound construction, and moderate price. California designer John Keal

Hungry Theory Is Disputed

By United Press

The population reference bureau in Washington is strongly disputing the claim of a Brazilian scientist that hunger increases human fertility and causes overpopulation.

The bureau says the Brazilian, Dr. Jose de Castro, has failed to present any medical evidence to back his theory.

It says laboratory tests with animals failed to show any increase in fertility if the animals were starved and that the birth rates of prisoners in Nazi concentration camps declined, indicating hunger decreased fertility. However, it is known that in many cases the Nazis administered drugs to cause sterility among their prisoners.

The bureau insists that the world is in danger of perishing from overpopulation. And it says just the problem must be attacked by many methods, including birth control.

The army is going to test the new anti-malarial drug, primaquine, this week on one thousand volunteers from among veterans who have served in Korea.

All veterans have been exposed to malaria. They now will receive a course of primaquine. It is hoped that this results will show that primaquine is a rapid cure for malaria rather than a mere suppressant like quinine and atabrine.

Herd Owners Guide Used In Montgomery

A committee of farmers in Montgomery county has worked out a "herd owners guide" in the form of a self-scoring card. County Agent Floyd McDaniel said the card was based on information supplied by the University of Kentucky. Twenty-eight farmers assisted in making the score sheet.

Fifty-two owners of beef herds in Montgomery county are using "horn stop," the county agent estimated. Twelve farmers recently put in mineral feeders to hold salt and bone meal. More cattlemen are using calf creepers.
